DETAILED ACTION

As per the Board decision on 7/24/09, the Examiner was affirmed in part. All the rejections were affirmed except for the rejection of claim 5. Therefore, the Examiner is reopening this application to address claim 5 and the claims from which it depends (claims 1-3). All other claims are canceled.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

Claim 5 (which depends from claims 1-3) is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Beeson (USPN 5589865).

Beeson teaches all the essential elements of the claimed invention as recited in claims 1-3, as previously rejected by Beeson in the final action dated 5/21/07, and as affirmed by the Board decision on 7/22/09, however with regards to claim 5, Beeson fails to teach that the first strip of material comprises a lint-free, lead-free, non-abrasive, open-cell foam. Beeson's first strip of material is an absorbent pad (implies open-cell) which has antistatic properties with low abrasive characteristics and is lint-free (col. 5, lines 21-24). It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to modify the first strip of material of Beeson so that it is completely non-abrasive and lead-free as required by the claim since it has been held within the general skill of a worker in the art to select a known material on the basis of its suitability for the intended use as a matter of obvious engineering choice. In re Leshin, 125 USPQ 416. Further, using a material that is lead-free would help create a non-abrasive surface and would allow the material to clean more efficiently.
